

CALL FOR PAPERS

Global Young Scholars Conference on “China and the World :
Development · Governance · Security”
May 24-25, 2018 | Fudan University

Organizer: Fudan Development Institute
Fudan-UC Center on Contemporary China

Fudan Development Institute (FDDI), based at Fudan University, is calling for paper submissions from young scholars – Ph.D. students up to associate professors– throughout FDDI’s international network all over the world. Applicants must be under 45 years of age. The conference will take place May 24-25, 2018 at Fudan University.

The conference theme “China and the World: Development · Governance · Security” is broadly construed to include quantitative, data-driven studies and qualitative studies from all social science disciplines.

The conference will bring young scholars globally together so they can exchange ideas and share research findings. The conference aims to become a dynamic forum for international and cross-disciplinary participants to build new synergies and develop future collaborative projects.

FDDI will cover the travel cost for the scholars and provide up to four nights stay in a hotel for those presenters outside of Fudan University.

The scholars who are selected to present in the conference will also be invited to attend Shanghai Forum 2018 which will be held May 26 to May 28, 2018 in Shanghai.

If you would like to present a paper at the conference, please send your submission (3,000-5,000 words in English) as well as your CV to Ms. JIANG Huaxia (jianghx@fudan.edu.cn) by March 16, 2018. You will be notified by March 30, 2018 if your paper has been selected to present.

The conference language is English. If you have any questions, please contact Ms. JIANG Huaxia.

About Fudan-UC Center:

The Fudan-UC Center on Contemporary China is the first academic institution to be established by a major Chinese university in cooperation with a leading North American university. It is based in the School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) at the University of California San Diego. Under the directorship of Professor Richard Madsen, the Center serves to connect all ten campuses in the University of California system with Fudan University in Shanghai. It brings together leading research scholars from both universities for conferences and lectures, as well as facilitates cooperative research. The Center hopes to promote deeper mutual understanding between the United States and China.
